Because It's More Fun to Have Someone Else Do the Planning

All you have to do is show up.

Spontaneous types, you're in luck: It's January, but you can still book a Valentine's Day getaway. "These days, people think much more last-minute than ever—I can turn an itinerary around in 48 hours," says Henrietta Loyd, founder of the custom travel company Cazenove & Loyd (cazloyd.com). Since February is summer in the Southern Hemisphere, she particularly recommends Bahía Vik in José Ignacio, Uruguay, the latest property from art collectors/hoteliars Alex and Carrie Vik. "The beach bungalows are perched on the dunes of Mansa Beach" (bahiavik.com).
