Concerned about Zika but still want to travel Somewhere warm this winter? We totally understand that you're wary of Zika. We also totally understand that you still need to take a vacation this winter. Never fear! We've compiled the ultimate list of Zika-free destinations along with handpicked resorts to make your holiday postcard perfect!

Uruguay- Bahia Vik Jose

Uruguay is a seriously under-rated destination considering all that it has to offer. Besides numerous beautiful beaches, Uruguay has a vibrant colonial city and growing wine region!

Bahia Vik Jose Ignacio is located on the southeastern coast of Uruguay right on the Atlantic ocean. At just 37 suites, Bahia Vik provides guests with personal attention. Rooms combine indoor and outdoor living that truly compliment the surrounding environment. Don't worry- even though the resort itself is small, you definitely won't be bored! There is a lot to do, including yoga on the beach, bird walks, a game room. Love nightlife? There's a restaurant that hosts a late night party complete with a DJ and steel drums to keep you dancing all night! There are two sister hotels nearby that guests have access to, including Estancia Vik, a countryside ranch resort where you can horseback ride down the coast and through the planes. The hotel owners even have their own wine label, so break out a bottle and enjoy the sunset bonfire on the beach.
